Child health was the dominant note of the city's celebration yesterday of May day, thousands of youngsters participating in programs commemorative of the day, and attending medical and dental clinics arranged for their benefit.

Schools and playgrounds were the scenes of May day parties, in which the health note was stressed. Many pageants were given by groups throughout the city, and in all of them the motif was either child health or the welcoming of spring.

Several members of the House civil service committee, it was learned yesterday, are planning to ask that the Smoot bill be substituted for the Welch bill when the next committee meeting is held. The suggestion will be opposed by several others.

An early meeting of the committee was indicated yesterday when Representative Lehlbach (Republican), of New Jersey, the chairman, appeared in the House and asked 'that the Welch bill be referred back to the committee. The bill introduced by Senator Smoot (Republican), of Utah, meets virtually all the objections that were raised in the House committee to the Welch bill.

Senator Smoot drafted a bill that would add $18,000,000 to the Federal pay roll instead of the $16,000,000 called for by the Welch bill. He put into it the $9,000 maximum salary for professional and scientific workers that had been eliminated 'by the House, and also tacked on increases in other grades.

Senator Cole Blease (Democrat), of South Carolina, delivered a long trade against the employment of married women in the Government service.

The South Carolina senator said he would be in favor of the retirement bill when the Government was ready to pension the farmers in his State. He said he knew of cases where both husband and wife were working for the Government, and hiring somebody to take care of the children at home.

Senator Blease urged consideration of his bill to prevent the employment by the Government of several members of the same family if their salaries totaled more than $5,000 a year.

Representative Lehlbach (Republican), of New Jersey, chairman of the House civil service committee and author of a retirement bill almost similar to the Dale bill, has requested the rules committee for a special rule so as to insure consideration of the measure.

President T. B. Smith Voices Fear of Crises Due to Systems of Sewerage.

NEW VISUAL METHOD OF TEACHING ASSAILED

Not More Than One-fifth of People's Minds Developed. Dr. F. T. Tilney Says.

Approximately 2,000 men representing the medical profession throughout the United States, gathered in Washington yesterday for the opening last night at the Mayflower Hotel of the fourat the Mayflower Hotel of the fourteenth triennial session of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons.
Dr. Theobold B. Smith, president, opened the congress with a speech in which he asserted infectious diseases have declined, but predicted "acute crises in the sanitary affairs of large communities" in the future because of the "intimate relation between water supply and sewage disposal."
There are three causes, he declared, for the decline in infectious diseases—the changes in economic conditions, the application of medical science, and the interplay of natural forces still largely unknown and not controlled by human foresight, which tend to raise the resistance of mankind against virulent parasites.

lent parasites.

"Improvements in economic condi-tions provide opportunity for a wider aseptic zone about individuals through personal cleanliness," he continued. personal cleanliness," he continued.
"On the other hand, industrial changes lead to huge concentration of the population in which the individual aseptic zone is broken into at many points. The sewage problem is still unsolved, and all we have done is to convert our water courses into open sewers which will occasion explosive outbreaks of intestinal diseases.

Separate Meetings Held.

"The time is coming when the intimate relationship between water supply and sewage disposal will suddenly develop acute crises in the sanitary affairs of large communities."

Dr. D. Bryson Delavan, of New York, followed Dr. Smith with a talk on "The Founders of Modern Larynxology and Rhinology."

Coincident with the meeting of the Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, the component associations and societies, numbering fifteen, are holding separate sessions for the dissemination of reports on scientific work conducted in their specialized subjects. "By this new method," Dr. Sachs continued, "children who have been able to read for several years are unable to get a new word. The average child by the older method had the help of the auditory means of spelling out.

Baron's Thirty-sixth Birthday.

Baron von Huenefeld came into ceremonies apart from those attendant upor: the successful flight of his companions and himself. He is 36 years old today and one of his first glits of the day was a large birthday cake from the management of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel where the airmen and their families are stopping. The cake will be cur at a party later.

In the jam about the Ritz-Carlton as the flers left, Capt. Koehl came in for some rough handling by a policeman who was unaware of his identity. The captain stopped on the sidewalk a moment to look at a picture to be presented him tonight when he was seized by the officer. "Come along," the blue-coat said, almost lifting the aviator into a waiting automobile. "you're spoiling this parade." Apologies followed, and the captain grinned.

The only one of the fliers to escape from crowds for a spell today was Capt. Koehl, who early slipped out to Curtiss Field and spent three quarters of an hour in the air in the Junkers F-13, sister ship of the transatlantic plane Bremen.

Government Opposes Suit of Riggs Bank

The District government asked the Circuit Court yesterday to dismiss the lawsuit of the Riggs National Bank wherein the bank sought to recover $18,574 which it paid as a tax on interest on Liberty bonds and other supposedly tax exempt securities. This case is regarded as a test cast to determine the legality of the tax which practically all of the District financial institutions have characterized as a direct tax on securities which are purchased with the distinct understanding that they are tax exempt.

Through Assistant Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens the District government says in its motion that no cause of action is stated in the bank's lawsuit, that the tax imposed on the bank is a franchise tax measured by the bank's gross earnings, that there is no tax imposed upon the certificates, but the interest from the certificates go to swell the amount of the gross earnings which are made the measure of the tax.

WORLD COURT ISSUE MAY BE FOUGHT OUT

Provision in Reservation.

This reservation provides that no advisory opinion shall be rendered by the court in any matter in which the United States has or claims to have an interest. The foreign nations, comprising the court, have been unwilling to accept the United States on these terms. It has been pointed out that the court members might have been willing to grant to the United States a veto power over advisory opinions in cases where America has an interest, but that the Atlerican demand for a veto power in cases where America demand for a veto power in cases where America merely claims to have an interest is too broad a power to be granted, because the United States might claim an interest in virtually any international controversy that could arise, and America, and not the court, would be the judge as to whether the veto should be axercised.

In the debate yesterday both Grand Bruce declared a willingness to have the Senate recede from its position respecting this reservation.

Bruce took the position that the present impasse justified attempts at modification of the reservation, Practical, sensible men, he said, should be disposed to seek removal of obstacles to the general purpose involved in America's bid to enter the court.

Borah's announced support of any motion to bring the protocol back to the Senate aroused immediate interest, because there now appears to be at least a possibility of another battle royal in the Senate over the World Court issue.

Favored by Opponent.

Borah is understood to be absolutely against any change in reservation No.

Borah is understood to be absolutely against any change in reservation No. 5, but he is not adverse to having the Senate reconsider the whole question. Other opponents of American membership in the court are also inclined to favor getting the protocol back.

They feel that if the Senate starts reconsideration of the question, the definite end of all possible chance of American adherence to the protocol will be at an end.

American adherence to the protocol will be at an end.

The powers will not be in a position to accept American membership under any terms, they say, until the Senate has acted, and they are confident that the Senate's action will be of such a character that acceptance of American membership will be out of the question for all time.

It is an open secret that John Bassett

Senators were not free to discuss Moore's major role in the senatorial deliberations because of Moore's position as judge on the court, but now that he has resigned it will be permissable to freely discuss his views, it is pointed out.

Gllett Starts Debate. Senator Gillett started the debate yes

Senator Gillett started the debate yesterday, replying to recent statements by Senator Reed. of Pennsylvania who characterized the Gillett resolution as "an empty and futile gesture."

Gillett said he wanted to end the deadlock between the United States and the foreign nations but declared that he did not favor modification of reservation No. 5.

He argued that this reservation was not important and expressed the hope that the powers would accept America as a member on the Senate's terms if the President were authorized by the Senate to continue the negotiations

Marion, Ohio, May 1 (A.P.)—Nearly five years of vigil at the tomb of President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding was at an end today for the guard detachment of the Tenth United States Infantry. For the first time since Mr. Harding's death his tomb was left unwatched.

Never for a moment had the temporary Harding tomb in the Marion cemetery and later the large memorial shrine been left unguarded until today, when members of the detachment were ordered to report to various Army posts. Since the time the post was established August 9, 1923, it is estimated that more than 1,000,000 visitors have been shown the tomb by the guards.

CAMPAIGN SLUSH FUNDS.

Investigation of expenditures made by presidential candidates in the present campaign has been ordered by the Senate. The resolution brought embarrassment almost at once. The list of active presidential candidates embraces the names of a good many senators. Other members are receptively inclined toward the vice presidential nomination. Still more are actively engaged in advancing the ambitions of some one of the avowed candidates. Even Vice President Dawes was forced to be extremely circumspect in naming the members of the committee, for it devolved upon him to see that all candidacies, open or unannounced, should be protected.

The committee has been shrewdly chosen. Three of its members are serving their first None of them has shown any particular aptitude for playing the role of chief inquisitor, upon which the success of such a committee depends. The senators who have snown skill in such work are all debarred.

The legislative value of anything that the committee may do has been already discounted. It developed during the debate following introduction of the resolution creating the committee that many difficulties stood in the way of a law to limit and define presidential campaign expenses. Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, suggested that an effort be made to place some limitation upon the amount of money that might be used, but it took only a few minutes' debate to demonstrate that money may be used in so many ways and through so many agencies, with and without the knowledge of a candidate, that the fixing of responsibility is almost impossible.

The committee's purpose and duty, then, is to bring to light the amounts used in behalf of the various candidacies and how the money is spent. A similar investigation in 1920 brought out the fact that more than $1,000,000 was nsed in the preconvention campaign in behalf of one candidate, a factor considered sufficiently weighty to jeopardize whatever chance he may have had before the convention. The manner in which money was used in behalf of another candidate provided evidence sim-Darly damaging.

It is hardly likely, however, that the committee named this year will uncover any information that would be useful politically to rival candidates. The investigation of 1920 and the one relating to the senatorial campaigns of 1926 brought about an era of economy in the conduct of political campaigns. The politically ambitious know that the excassive use of money is likely to prove as dangerous as the expenditure of too little. come and outgo will be as carefully scrutinized by the various candidates as by members of the senatorial committee. The odds against sensational discoveries are very

THE SENATE'S INTERFERENCE.

The disposition by Congress to intermeddle with independent commissions and other bodies it has created has been further emphasized through the La Follette resolution asking the Federal Reserve Board to advise against further expansion in brokers' loans. The resolution just reported by the Senate banking committee is based on the new high record of $4,144 000,000 which brokers' loans recently reached. In the eyes of some members of the Senate, including the author of the resolution, this is a dangerous situation. The Federal Reserve Board has given evidence that it appreciates the existence of a condition that may become dangerous by increasing the rediscount rate of five member banks. In doing this the board has anticipated the action that the Senate is now asked to

What the Senate is now asked to do with fespect to the Federal Reserve Board presents a situation not without danger in itself. The tem of brokers' loans is not the only one which the board has to consider in dealing with its financial operations. It has the ower, it is true, to check what it considers an undue speculative tendency on the part of Wall street by increasing rediscount rates; but, at the same time, it must bear in mind it cheap money is a stimulant to business and the marketing of crops. The board can not throw its entire resources into the scale to check the stock market and simultaneously provide cheap credit to that portion of the country that is not concerned with the operations of Wall street. A third problem for the loard to consider is the relationship between rates in this country and the efforts which debtor nations are making to cancel their obligations in the United States. Under such rcumstances the attempt of the Senate to intervene in one direction only might prove more embarrassing than helpful. In the La Follette resolution the Senate is isked to interfere with the Federal Reserve Soard in much the same manner that the Sonate has already interfered with the Intertate Commerce Commission in the lake cargo Congress can not expect to set up independent commissions or boards of the Gov ernment and retain the right to interfere whenever its fancy dictates. Neither the Federal Reserve Board nor the Interstate Commerce Commission can hope to function efficiently if the Senate, for political or other reasons, undertakes to dictate action and compel judgments. The Senate's recent usurpations of authority over independent commis sions should be challenged and stopped by the House of Representatives.

WELCOME TO THE AIRMEN.

At 10 o'clock this morning the three newest heroes of aviation are due to descend at Bolling Field, to be welcomed to the Capital by Secretary Kellogg and a group of distinguished officials and diplomats. During the day Baron von Huenefeld, Capt. Koehl and Maj. Fitzmaurice will be the guests of Washington. Their schedule is crowded. At nogh they will be received by the President, with whom they will have luncheon later. At 2:30 they will visit the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Immediately thereafter they will be received by the Senate and the House. At 8 o'clock they will dine with their respective ambassadors, and the day will end with a reception extended by the Assistant Secretaries of War, Navy and Commerce.

These three aviators, the first to fly from the Old World to the New, are thrice welcome. New York showed them what America thinks of their accomplishment. Washington will be no less sincere in its greeting.

Von Huenefeld, Koehl and Fitzmaurice have written a glorious page in the history of aviation. They pioneered, at risk of their lives. a pathway that is destined to be crowded with trayelers. The world is the beneficiary of their skill and daring, and it gratefully acknowledges its debt.

HIGH POWER RADIO.

Radio Commissioner Caldwell has become the outstanding champion of high power broadcasting stations. Some time ago he proposed that a certain number of channels be cleared upon which 50,000 watt or 100,000 watt stations would be licensed to transmit programs of interest to the entire Nation. Such stations in his opinion would best serve the interests of those living at a distance from radio broadcasting centers. The proposal stirred up instant and vociferous opposition. High power, said the critics, serves to blot out low power. Fifty thousand watt stations would be able to blanket the ether, effectively silencing, to all intents and purposes, stations of 5,000 watts power or less.

In an address prepared for delivery before the senior engineering students of Purdue University, Commissioner Caldwell takes occasion to criticize his critics. Radio, he said, has become a political football to be kicked around during a presidential year by those who do not understand its engineering features. The politician, he added, "who by such false appeals as cutting radio powers proposes to waste a public resource while depriving millions of listeners of their favorite programs, must soon face an aroused public.'

Mr. Caldwell is at least partly right to bis statement. Some of the criticism of high power stations undoubtedly has a political origin. It would seem that most of it, however, is born of ignorance. Fear of high power is not peculiar to the politician. The public itself does not realize that power has no effect upon interference.

Each broadcasting division of the dial of a radio should be thought of, for illustration. as a speaking tube a mile long. If one could shout loud enough-use enough power-his voice would be clearly audible throughout the length of the tube. If listening holes were bored into the tube one-quarter of a mile from each end, two individuals might whisper at either end simultaneously, and their words would be audible to a listener at the hole nearest the end. Each, however, would be interfered with to a greater or less degree by the speaker at the other end, and a person listening in at the middle of the tube would hear a gibberish composed of the scrambled words of both speakers. One tube can be used by more than one speaker only if it is so long that the voices of each will not overlap. In broadcasting, a number of stations can utilize a single frequency only if they are separated far enough so that their spheres of influences will not overlap. In the case of the speaking tube long enough to be utilized by more than one speaker there will be numerous points where only the superacute ear will be able to hear a voice. In the broadcasting structure in which many separated stations use an identical frequency there are numerous spots in which only a supersensitive receiver can pick up signals. If the individual owning an average receiver, living in such a spot, is to be served, obviously there must be cleared channels in which selected stations can push their signals to him by brute power.

The whole broadcasting dial of a radio should be thought of as a number of parallel speaking tubes. No matter how loud one shouts into any one tube, his voice will not be transmitted by any other, not even those closest to the one into which he speaks. In radio transmission, of course, there are numerous factors to provide complications, but in principle there is no more reason why high power station should blot out a low power station operating in another channel than there is that a shout down one speaking tube should drown out a whisper spoken into another.

Commissioner Caldwell is on sound scientific ground when he advocates the licensing of a limited number of stations to operate on exclusive frequencies with power of 50,000 watts and upward. To whom such choice positions would be granted is, however, another

COMPULSORY MOTOR INSURANCE.

The House District committee will begin hearings tomorrow on the Treadway compulsory automobile liability insurance measure The bill is patterned closely after the Massachusetts law. Those sponsoring it are anxious to obtain action during the present session, and Representative Treadway points to the increasing number of automobile accidents as proof that such legislation is needed.

Compulsory automobile liability insurance has many opponents. The insurance companies and underwriters are opposed to it. Automobile dealers believe that it is unnecessary and unwise. A portion of the public has indicated its intention of fighting the bill. These groups advance many arguments against the project, notable among which are that it would but most of them are shy and dignified.

that it would make it impossible for a large number of people to own automobiles because of the additional expense, and that it would be unjust to require insurance of individuals when Government automobiles are not made liable.

The fact that in Massachusetts a similar law has been operative for well over a year. and has proved satisfactory, would seem to constitute a refutation of some of these arguments. Massachusetts has not discovered that compulsory automobile insurance increases reckless driving, nor has it caused a severe cut in motor car sales.

It should be recognized that no law should be passed that runs counter to the preponderant public sentiment. The committee therefore has a considerable task ahead of it to decide finally whether or not such legislation would be beneficial, and if the law could be administered effectively. Compulsory automobile liability insurance constitutes a revolutionary experiment in social legislation, and although it appears by the Massachusetts experience to be beneficial, it may be that conditions in the District would make such legislation undesirable.

CHICAGO'S EXTRAVAGANCE.

Chicago was forced to wait until after the primary to determine the cost of the Thompson regime, and there seems to be little doubt that the sweep of the Deneen organization would have been all the greater if the taxpayers had been forewarned. Tax bills were mailed to Chicago property owners last week, and many of them found that their assessments had been raised as much as 1,000 per cent. The indignant citizens say that in return they have obtained no benefits, but that the supply of highpriced cars for city officials has increased and the number of junkets to various points in the United States and foreign countries has grown larger.

The view of the taxpayer, at a loss to find the money with which to pay his tax bill, is not quite correct. William Hale Thompson has not been idly called "Big Bill, the Builder." He has inaugurated many public improvements. They have given many persons employment and cost millions of dollars. But there was no redeeming streak of economy to compensate for these civic projects. Chicago is now paying for its mayor's nickname and the prodigality of an administration that had to take care of its friends.

WHAT'S THE CONSTITUTION?

The backers of the McNary-Haugen bill think they have developed a splendid plan for circumventing the Constitution. They have inserted a provision to the effect that if any section of the law should be declared unconstitutional, the rest of the measure would not he affected. The unconstitutional section they have in mind is that relating to the equaliza-This illuminating colloquy recently occurred in the House between two constitutional statesmen, Messrs. Hall and Burtness. of North Dakota:

Mr. Burtness. Does the gentleman see ny reason for not supporting the bill upon the part of any one who believes the equalization fee is unconstitutional if he likewise believes that the bill otherwise would work?

Mr. Hall, of North Dakota. Not so: not at all.

What's the Constitution when farm politics involved? It has not often happened in the history of the United States, however, that legislators in either the Senate or House have en so bold as to announce beforehand that they intended to vote for measures which they knew or believed to be in violation of the Constitution. Considering the fact that legislators now openly support unconstitutional projects, it is well that there is a man in the White House who will use the ax. If these willful violators of the Constitution can muster the strength and courage to pass the bill over a veto, they will then encounter another obstacle that can not be surmounted.

THE BOY AND THE GANG.

Ninety-five per cent of juvenile crime in in the afternoon, according to the New York City Crime Commission. From the time he arises in the morning until around 3 o'clock the average boy is in school. After that he either plays or works, depending upon his natural inclination and the economic position of his family. If he has a job, the chances are he will not get into trouble, but if he is idle he drifts into crime.

The crime commission points to the Boys Club Federation as an effective agency with which to combat the spare time problem. The federation at all times holds open house. Instead of running in the streets, boys may go to the clubrooms, where they are given the opportunity to build themselves up physically. nentally and morally. The clubhouses are made attractive and club activities are sympathetically administered. Consequently they have proved popular.

The Children's Bureau recently issued a report dealing with another scheme that has been found effective in dealing with invenile crime. Acting upon the theory that if a boy be given a job that he likes he will usually be an honest citizen, the commissioner of police of Chicago late in 1927 established an employment bureau under a police lieutenant, with headquarters in the city hall, for the purpose of putting boys in contact with potential employers. Applications are received through local police stations and a comprehensive follow-up system has been devised to investigate dismissals and make occupational adjustments. Up to the first of the year more than 5,000 applications had been received and more than 2,500 boys had been placed in positions. So successful does the experiment promise to be that many other cities are said to be planning the establishment of similar

Boys clubs and municipal employment bu reaus do good work, even though there must be a considerable number of boys who fail to utilize the facilities offered. The important question is, how may the boy who prefers to run the streets and get himself into trouble be persuaded to substitute wholesome recreation or productive occupation for the gang?

STRANGERS IN TOWN

Many of the Washingtonians who crowded into our furnished Model Home said they felt like "strangers in town." They thought they knew all the better residential sections. And here was Woodley Park, only 12 minutes from downtown; a couple of blocks off Connecticut Ave.; just far enough to be private, not isolated.

Here is our completely furnished Model Home, 3020 Cortland Place N.W. A detached residence, inexpensive to maintain because it is up to the minute in modernness. It will remain open to visitors daily from 9 to 9 until Sunday, May 6.

A fashionable modern home demands a fashionable setting; in close-in Woodley Park we think we have "It."

Drive out Connecticut Avenue to Cathedral Avenue and then left and hear right on Woodley Road to Klingle Road: the house is one block to your right on Cortland Place.

And then the door opens with the greeting, "I'll have you understand, my young friend, that I am perfectly capable of taking my daughter to the party. Good day."

Now let's consider that little drama as it might have been. We need three characters—father, daughter and son. The father says. "Daughter, you go upstairs." "Sonny, you go outside and take the place of the imaginary boy."

"I'll be father." The youth rings the bell. The father goes to the door, a smile of welcome on his face, his hand extended in wholesome, hearty greeting.

It is still too early to say how permanent the results will be, but at the moment the outlook seems of the best. There is still less evidence as to the value of the liver diet in other forms of anemia. However, there are studies which show it to be a valuable agent in anemia due to a prolonged milk diet. If it is of value in milk-diet anemia, it should be of value in most other forms of secondary anemia.

Conduct and Common Sense By ANNE SINGLETON=

SALADS AND THEIR PLACE

DEAR Miss Singleton: Is salad served before the main course, or afterward? I dare say you have answered this before, but I didn't see it. Do you ever cut salad? At what meals is it correct to serve it? Do you always have extra plates for it, if not an extra course? Tell me also about place plates, how they are used? Are half-moon plates for salad smart? A. ZERO.

Salad is never served before the main course at lunch or dinner. At supper, chicken or lobster salad might be the chief course. There are no other meals but breakfast, and I never heard of salad for that meal. Salad is usually an adjunct of cold meat or game and comes after the main meat course. With an adjunct of cold meat or game and comes after the main meat course. With game or cold meat, you would have a short dinner and choose to serve salad of any kind with hot meat, you have an extra plate to replate should be set all ithe above or a plate should be set to the left of the large plate. The bread-and-but-lete place plate to the left, and this leaves space for the salad plate if you have an extra plate to the left, and this leaves space for the salad dressing would mix unpleasantly with hot meat, you have an extra plate or a plate should be set a little above or a plate should be set to the left.

All serving, all offering of dishes, all changing of plates, clean, or used. Is done from the left. The only right-hand these, being soft, require no knife. The have extra plates for it, if not an extra course? Tell me also about place plates, how they are used? Are half-moon plates for salad smart?

Laughter comes when it is earned." (Copyright, 1928, Edgar A. Guest.) MODISH MITZI

Mitzi didn't mean to eavesdrop. The door was closed, but she couldn't help hearing Marie, that romantic child, tell Aunt Sophia that she had fixed things between Mitzi and the Goofer. How?" Oh, by writing a letter and telling tem how much one liked the other, Anonyously, of course!

Before it goes any further, Mitzi will find an opportunity to walk into the next room and ask them how they like her new coat with the fur on the cuffs. The collar effect is very new, growing out of the seam of the sleeves. Notice that there is no fur around the neck. Marie wears a cape coat, the cape is detachable so that the coat can be straight line if desired.

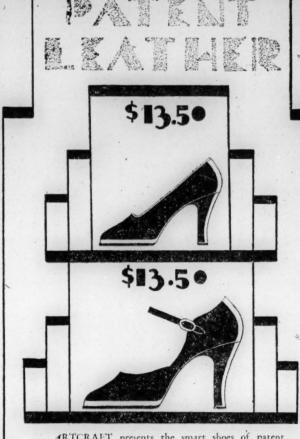

"I wrote him that Mitzi liked him, but that she was afraid to show it," said Marie to Polly, not noticing that the Goofer, about whom she was talking, was standing in the doorway. "And then I wrote Mitzi about the same thing. Oh, I've fixed things." "And how," thinks the Goofer. Polly is frankly aghast. She's even forgotten her new taffeta suit with the short coat revers and collar outlined with frills. She's completely ignoring Marie's new felt hat with the petal brim. They are styles that should be noticed, too. Polly is too busy wondering what's going to happen next. Something will, tomorrow.

Severe sethacks in the price of wheat begin to develop as soon as trading started, but the full violence of the storm of selling came only after monthly crop summaries from the leading experts here had been issued. STEELS FAIRLY STRONG

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 1.—The stock market was rather spotty today, atthough net gains outnumbered losses by a good margin. Trading was heavy during the morning and early afternoon, but tapered off after various individual speculative sallies had failed to get the list as whole stated in either directive was proposed to 13.800,000 shares. Call money did the unexpected; after rehewing at 6 per cent it dropped to 5½ stround noon. On the outside money was plentiful at 5 per cent.

Although aided by heavy gold exports and recent sales of Government securities by the reserve banks, the indications are that higher money rates will have to withstand a strong tide of incoming funds from the seasonal contraction of credit demand. A further narrowing of the credit base was revealed by the local Federal Reserve Bank in its figures for gold losses during April. Christopher of the credit base was revealed by the local Federal Reserve Bank in its figures for gold losses during April. Christopher of the credit base was revealed by the local Federal Reserve Bank in the finding statements were generally disregarded by traders. Income was capitalized in current quotetions with the same optimism that has been in evidence all along. This particularly was true of the individuals and courted public speculation the conclusion is inescapable that a prolonged period of industrial prosperity is just shead. This, of course, does not mean that the market might not have a severe reaction, even a violent break in the interim.

At any rate, an encless series of bullish demonstrations characterized todays market, but these always failed from an extrawagant and excited public speculation that the colls were meeting with heavy profit taking attracted by their spectacular rise of the last few sessions. Yet it was in the public utility shares and the specialities, along with some of the lower priced rails that principled interest appeared to center callefy as the day progressed.

The Day of Your First Investment

minimum

T IS a proud day in your life—the day you realize that your bank account shows a large enough balance for you to make your first investment.

Now the problem is—what security should you buy. Your capital repre-sents the result of long months, perhaps years of saving. You cannot afford to take risks with it. Yet you desire an investment with a yield somewhat higher than the rate of interest you are receiving in your Savings Account.

The ideal investment for a person in your circumstances is one of the 6% FIRST MORTGAGE NOTES which may be purchased through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company. Their high factor of safety is indicated by the fact that no investor has suffered loss in fifty-nine years. And their yield of 6% is an exceptionally attractive one.

HIGH-GRADE RAIL BONDS DISPLAY FAIR DEMAND

Market in General Fails to Show Definite Trend; Few Oils Strong.

FEDERAL ISSUES HEAVY

New York, May 1 (A.P.).—The bond market today failed to establish a defi-nite trend. There was some scattered buying of high-grade issues, particularly in the railway group, and some further accumulation of low-priced liens.

The loans and commercial paper rates used unchanged, and new offerings ruled unchanged, and new offerings were in relatively small volume. The day's largest issue, the $20,000,000 mortgage Bank of Chile 6s, was reported promptly oversubscribed. Public offering will be made tomorrow of the $30,000,000 German Central Bank for Agriculture 6s.

Oil company obligations again made a good showing, particularly Barnsdall 6s, with warrants, which sold at 105% for the first time this year. Sinclair issues also were in fair demand.

Iowa Central 4s and Peoria & Eastern 4s were favorites with "bargain hunters," both reaching new peaks for the year after advances of more than a point. Chesapeake Corporation again sold at 100, but later lost all their fractional gain. Heaviness attacked Chicago & Northwestern 3½s, and Prisco General 3s dropped to par, a new 1938 low.

Hudson Coal 5s, which have been risco General 3s dropped to par, a new 1928 low.

Hudson Coal 5s, which have been aiming steadily for about a week, irrned back on profit taking, and there as rather general selling of copper ompany lines. New York Traction lortgages also yielded to realizing sales German industrial securities were trong, particularly Siemans & Haiske 1/2s, which jumped about 9 points, ther foreign issues were quiet and regular.

Treasury Bonds inclined to heavi-ess, but some of the Liberties were rm. Trading in this group was small.

Farm Loan Secured 6% Gold Sinking Fund Bonds Series A of 1928

Dated April 15, 1928

Due April 15, 1938

Redeemable in whole or in part, on any interest date prior to maturity, on thirty days' notice, at 100 per cent of the principal thereof. Principal, interest and sinking fund payable in New York City, in gold coin of the United States of America of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any present or future taxes or duties levied by or within the German Reich, at the Head Office of

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

REICHSBANK, Berlin, German, Supervisory Trustee.

The Trust Indenture will provide for a Cumula tive Sinking Fund of 1½% per annum requiring semi-annual payments to the Trustee, commencing September 5, 1928. Payments may be made either in Bonds of this issue or in cash, and any cash so paid will be applied to the redemption of Bonds at 100 per cent of the principal thereof through drawings by let.

The following is summarized from a letter of Messrs. Kissler and Szagunn, Managing Directors of the Deutsche Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt, regarding this issue:

The Deutsche Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt acts as a Central Bank for German agricultural credit organizations, through which it grants loans for the promotion of agricultural production, employing for that purpose its own resources and the proceeds of domestic and foreign borrowings. It was organized in 1925 pursuant to the suggestion of the Reichsbank Organization Committee appointed under the Dawes Plan, which Committee had recommended that such an institution be formed, to which the old Rentenbank should transfer its credit balances. Its initial paid-up capital of $40,476,190 has been augmented until it now amounts to $79,761,905, and may be further increased by the application of earnings and additional transfers from the Rentenbank until capital and surplus aggregate $119,047,619. The business operations of the Central Bank have expanded commensurately until on March 31, 1928, its total assets aggregated $317,524,388, of which loans secured by mortgages amounted to $180,519,026.

The Governing Board of the Central Bank consists of twenty-seven members, including eleven appointed by certain leading agricultural organizations, eleven by the German Reichstat, and two by the German Government, which also exercises certain supervisory functions.

The Bonds of this issue will be secured by an equivalent amount of mortgages (or cash in lieu thereof), constituting direct liens on German agricultural, forestal and horticultural lands to an amount which together with all existing prior liens (as defined in the Trust Indenture) shall not exceed in the aggregate 40% of their assessed value. Temporary security of substantially equivalent nature is provided for a limited

The purpose of this issue is to provide funds designed to increase the productivity of German agriculture. This is expected to exert a favorable influence on German national economy and on the potential balance of payments available to creditor nations.

We offer these Bonds if, as and when issued to and received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Shearman & Sterling, New York City, and Dr. Ernst Wolff, Berlin. Delivery in temporary form is expected on or about May 22, 1928.

30,000 at Opening of Pimlico See Brilliant Stretch Run.

Sir Harry Is Third; Brown Flash, Off Slowly, Fourth.

By CHARLES A. WATSON.

IMLICO, May 1.—Thirty thousand devotees of the sport of kings saw thritteen classy thoroughbreds trained to the minute parade to the post for the $25,000 Dixle Handlcap, the main attraction of the opening day at Pimileo, while the great amplifiers overhead rolled out the time of "Dixle." Yelling themselves into frenzy the monster crowd saw Hal Frice Headley's Mike Hall, the great four year son of Hourless and Clonaklity, the holder of the world's mile and seventy yard record, win with a great stretch run with Jockey H. Richards using his whip, hand and heel to great effect to defeat Walter M. Jefford's gallant Scapa Flow by a length. The time was 1.59.

A little farther on came the Seagram Stables Sir Harry winner of last year's Cofforth to finish third with Frederick Johnson's recent New York winner Erown Flash in fourtin place.

Racing came back to Pimilco today with a flare of fashica and a blaze of color. The mile strip was exceedingly flast and the attendance outdid any previous opening. By CHARLES A. WATSON.

The well-filled boxes, the crowd-pd clubhouse and the stands packed to the roof with an over-flow going to the infield, together with the martial music resounding from the great amplifiers all add-ed to the seene of activity about the "billton."

All during the mid-afternoon traffic

All during the mid-afternoon traffic lanes leading to the historic course were blocked with motor cars. Motor bases hauling great loads of racegoers and railroad trains running special schedules brought great throngs to the oval for the afternoon's sport.

A good-humorec crowd jostling to the mutuel machines jammed the space under the stands in an effort to lay a wager long before the bugle blev the blast for the opening event.

Play Starts Today at Washington; Other Golf News.

By HENRY LITCHFIFLD WEST.

THE first spring invitation golf club tournament will begin this morning, when shortly after 7 o'clock the first contestants will drive from the first tee of the Washington Golf and Country Club. There will be a steady procession of golfers from that early hour until nearly 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The entry list, which originally contained 204 names, remains at approxi-mately the same figure, as the few va-cancles which have naturally occurred have been filled by additional competi-tors. The field is a representative ne, and, with the course in good condition, it is expected that the scoring will be comparatively low. The monthly tournament of the Wommen's District Golf Association, staged yesterday on the course of the Bannockburn Club, was a most successful event in every detail. The officials of the club entertained the players at luncheon, and by their cordiality and hospitality contributed largely to the enjoyment of the players.

In the qualifying round of six holes there was a triple tie for low score between Mrs. Morgan Tschiffely, Mrs. H. A. Knox and Mrs. Donald C. McCallum, each with 31. After the tournament was well under way it was discovered that Mrs. Frank Keefer, of the Chevy Chase Club, had played seven holes by mistake, and that her card for the designated six holes was only 30.

There were eight flights of four players each, the results of match play being as follows:

"All I heard before the fight," Farley said, "were the same rumors that a lot of other people herad. I instructed Referee Lou Magnolia, when he called the fighters to the center of the ring, to tell them what I had heard.

"I told him to say to them that if there was anything wrong with their actions, both would be thrown out of the ring. I haven't seen Magnolia since the fight and so I don't know what he actually said. I assume he obeyed orders."

Reports that Delaney was not in good physical condition prompted Tex Rickard, Garden promoter, to question Jimmy Johnston, part manager of Sharkey, shortly before the bout took place.

Joe Jacobs, pilot of the Bridgepors warrior, scoffed at rumors prevalent be-fore the fight that Delaney had not "Delaney was in as fine shape as he ever has been." Jacobs said. He scaled 178 pounds, his best fighting weight. Jack was hit on the chin, as any fighter might be. Given another chance he'll whip Sharkey."

Johnston declared that Buckley, desiring to protect Sharkey's interests and and certain that the garrulous gob at last had struck his stride and was due for a quick victory, protested to Rickard several days before the match that Delaney was doing no training.

Mr. Mahon, Johnston said, sought to visit Delaney at Bridgeport, but was told that there was no training scheduled for that day.

Ruth Hits 5th Home Run in Victory

Babe, With 4 Safeties, Leads Mates in Attack on Marberry. Nats Drive Shealy Out

(Sports Editor of The Post).

ABE RUTH and his merry men frolicked again at Griffith Stadium yesterday, and it follows that the Yankees were scoring their fifth consecutive victory over the Nationals coincidental with the Nationals coincidental with the Nationals' eighth consecutive setback.

As dusk settled over the ball pgick, the Nationals were resting in seventh place in the American League standing, as it became apparent that the Yankees would win and it was known that Detroit had climbed a notch by defeating the White Sox.

Among the happenings of the day was the fifth home run of the season by B. Ruth, who bunted one of Marberry's pitches on a line to the center field bleachers, where the stands meet the fence. None, fortunately or unfortunately, was on base at the time and unately, was on base at the time and the hit accounted for only one run in the 8-to-5 victory that the Yankees scored. The home run was among three other hits that Ruth collected for him self, including a triple.

The Nats did not go down without a struggle yesterday. To Marberry's ineffective pitching only can the defeat

Again the Nats caressed the ball for twelve hits and flourished their bats to the extent of five runs in the seventh and eighth innings, placing the tying run on base on one occasion and driving two Yanekee pitchers from the box. Al Shealy, New York recruit, was in

Al Shealy, New York recruit, was invincible for six innings, while his mates were ganing a six-run lead off Marberry, but the Nats solved Shealy for a run in the seventh and forced him to retire in favor of Wiley Moore in the eighth during a four-run out-burst. Shealy forced in a run before he was recalled to the bench and Moore forced in another before Pipgras was called to his rescue.

Joe Dugan, who had put a quietus on the rally of the Nats in Monday's game, again checked the Nationals yeaterday with a double play. The bases were full in the eighth with one out when Dugan leaped high to trap Six-ler's line drive and step on third base for a double play.

Manager Harris used 16 players, including himself, in an effort to win the ball game, but the Yankees' sevenrun lead sustained them to the end. Jack Hayes conducted himself like a big leaguer at second base and short-stop and connected for two hits, but Sam Rice gained the honors of the day with a double and three singles.

The home run of Babe Ruth was the only disturbing element of the first three innings, but in the fourth Marberry was touched for two more runs.

Judge. Both scored when Meusel singled through the infield. Maryberry averted further trouble by fanning Shealy and Collins.

Both clubs collected ten hit, but the locals lacked the punch needed to make use of their hits, and eight men were left on base.

Burrus hit his second home run of the series off Walsh in the second inning, while a trio of doubles rattled off the right-field fence.

Fitzsimmons was hit hard by the Robins, but was saved time after time by spectacular support. Two catches by Roush were particularly brilliant. Jim Faulkner relieved Fitzsimmons as the Robins started an eighth-inning rally, and held the visitors without hits or runs through the rest of the game.

Vance held the Giants to nine hits, but his support was erratic, and the Giants bunched 'their r'ows at times when they were effective. Ott doubled with the bases full in the fifth and Harper hit a home run in the sixth, the seventeenth Giant homer in twelve games.

As Starter James Milton sprung the barrier in the opening dash of 4½ furlongs for 2-year-olds the old familiar yell of "They're off" responded over the well-gardened lawns of the "hilitop" announcing the opening of the Pimlico racing meet—

To Jockey R. Peternell went the honor of piloting the first winner of the meeting when he set the pace with the Nevada Stock Farm's Kulaman from the break and raced the son of Whiskaway to victory over Fair Beth by a head in 0:491-5.

Walker was the second horse away to victory over Fair Beth by a head in 0:491-5.

Mayor Walker was the second horse to leave the barrier, but went wide rounding the home turn and was shuffled back. Fair Beth, running fastest to the end, showed an excellent effort, but could not overtake the winner, and finished second. Samuel Ross' Shepperdess, an outsider in the betting, finished third a length behind the winner and paid $27.50 to show.

In one of the most exciting steeplechases ever seen in Maryland, where only five horses finished of the twelve to start, the silks of J. E. Widener were borne to victory when Jockey "Dolly" Beyers, astride of Sandstorm, finished first in the Harford Steeplechase, the secondary feature of the afternoon, covering the 2-mile course in 4:00 2-5. The timber toppers were off to a good start with Kathleen Crosby setting the pace to the first jump. Elder then took the pace. Gold Coast II went down at the, second jump with Bolauder going down at the fourth. Elder still led the field. Madrigal II and Kathleen Crosby went down at the sixth jump. Elder had a long lead with Warfain under Jockey Lance Cheyne running second. Brown Stout went down at the ninth jump. Coming to the stretch run Elder ran out and Warfain followed catching himself on the wings throwing Jockey Cheyne heavily. The jockey sustained two cracked ribs and suffered internal injuries. Horses that were far behind came on to win. Sandstorm finished first with Massillon second and Ke Kon Boy third. Jockey C. Smoot suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Greenock, perfectly ridden by Jockey E. Ambrose, scored a neat rictory in the second race of 6 furlongs when the McLean Stables' son of The Porter defeated Stephanus in a dazzling finish to win by a head in 1:13 4-5.

The Heathen was first to get away the break with Greenock second. Stephanus moved into second place at the half pole with the Heathen holding the lead rounding the turn. Ambrose let Greenock have a breathing spell rounding the turn, came wide in the stretch and ran over horses in the stretch run and finished gamely under a mild urging from the rider. Stephanus was second with Crystal Domino finishing third.

Fourteen platers of the better class went to the post for the fourth race of six furlongs with Mrs. Walter M Jefford's Light Air proving the best of the field, winning by a half length in 1:13 3-5. Apple Pie broke on top. but Niki soon set the pace to the half pole. Owena moved up with Warrior Bold and were running head and head rounding the stretch turn.

Light Air was running third but breezing very easily. Into the stretch run Light Air moved up under the whip of Jockey F. Stevens and rushed home to a decision. Warrior Bold was second with Owena third.

The Hilltop proved the most exciting finish of the day when Vito defeated Don Q. by a head in a smashing finish in 1:45-5.

Don Q. by a head in a smashing finish in 1:45 2-5.

Vito, setting the pace from the start, held on gamely and outstayed Don Q., who fought the leader for the entire distance to lose right at the wire. Sun Friar, running third most of the way, gave away to Spear Rock, who finished third. The first four horses could be covered with a blanket.

H. G. Bedwell's colors went to the front with the break of the seventh race and Vellas. under a capable ride by Jockey H. Little, won in a stretch duel to go away at the end to win by several lengths in 1:453-5.

Vellas was never headed, the contention coming from All Blue, who tired in the stretch run and finished third

9 JUVENILES IN $5,000 STAKE

Peter Snow Favored in Day's Feature at Pimlico.

Special to The Washington Post.

Pidlico Race Track, May 1.—
Tomorrow's racing at Pimlico presents another fine card for the second day of the meeting, with smaller fields the rule. The outstanding feature of the afternoon will be the $5,000 Pimlico Nursery for 2-year-olds at 4½ furlongs. Nine juveniles are asked to face the starter, with Pete. Snow looking the best of the outst.

nt.

The Stafford Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth; the Annapolis Purse, at 6 furlongs, and the Equitable Handicap, at a mile and 70 yards, are all companion features of the Nursery.

Jockey "Whitey" Abel has joined the colony of riders at this track, arriving today from Kentucky.

A queer mixup occurred with the running of the Harford Steeplechase today. When Kathleen Crosby fell at the sixth jump, she lay there stunned. Spectators in the infield attempted to drag her from the path of the oncoming horses who were on their second round. its stride, hence the good word is "hop aboard the old cush rattler." LIEU-TENANT II is a fair sort of hide; but

They had almost succeeded when the field was upon them. One of the officials of the track waved to 5 the rider on the leader, who happened to be Jockey G. E. Deller, an English rider making his debut in this country, to go to the middle of the jump, but the rider mistook the signal and went outside the wings and was disquall-fied.

The oncoming Warfain, with Jockey Lance Cheyne, attempted to follow the leading horse, but fell over one of the wings, injuring the rider seriously.

Eddie Seagram, the popular Canadian owner of the Seagram Stable, was much disappointed to learn that the telegrams he sent to his trainer, W. H. Bringloe, ordering him to cancel all entries on the day of the death of Jockey Orville Bourassa had not been delivered by the telegraph companies. The message calltd for the delivery of flowers and to have all horses remain in the stables until after the burial of in the stables until after the burial of this popular rider.

D. C. GOLFERS YANK SERIES ENDS HERE IN OPENING TODAY TOURNEY

A large force of mathematicians and accountants connected with the Inter-state Commerce Commission were still busy at a late hour last night figuring out the score cards turned in yester-day at the conclusion of the tourna-ment held on East Potomac Park by the golfing employes of the commission.

Competition was match play against par, and as some of the players were given handicaps as high as two strokes a hole, it was no easy matter to pick out the win-ners in the three classes, A, B, and C, into which the players were di-vided.

There was no doubt, however, that W. W. Seay, with a card of $8, was the winner of the low gross prize, while W. T. Spence, who was one of the fortunate ones with a high handleap, won the low net prize, 101—42—59. In the first class there was a triple tie for first place between P. R. Baker, 90; J. B. Keeler, 90, and M. C. Trowbridge, 89, each 2 down to par, while for second prize there was also a triple tie—E. W. Bodkin, 98; W. W. Seay, 88, and J. F. Sheehan, 90, each 3 down to par. In class B. J. P. Hovey, 98, and R. H. Harsh, 94, were tied for first prize, being all square with par, with E. J. Kendrick, 94, and H. C. Ames, 99, each 1 down to par for the second prize. All these names, it was stated last night, were subject to revision after a further checking up of the cards, and all that could be said about class C was that W. A. Dordell, F. P. Cahill, J. J. Growley, A. A. Dibble, F. P. Glancy and A. Kettler were probable winners. In the women's section, Miss Carrie E. Coffenberger, 5 down to par, was the winner, with Miss Rosella Rick, 7 down to par, in second place.

re no available infielders left either and all the Nats can do is to pray that there are no more added to the cripple list until the names of some already on

The Yankees will end their visit here this afternoon. They will find "Sad Sam" Jones opposing them. The former Brownie has looked good in two short relief ahifts and will be making his debut as a Washington starter. Henry Johnson will do the flinging for the world's champs.

Fred Marberry yesterday discovered that the Ulrd strike is always the hardest to get on an opposing batter. Three times he had two strikes on Ruth and then the Lambino hit safely, one of these blows being a homer. Two strikes, also, had been called on Collins when he doubled in the third and on Dugan when he singled in the second.

One reason why the Nationals are on the down grade is that they are unable to get their hits at timely moments. In their last half-dozen games they have coined but 18 runs in 57 safeties, an average of 3 1-6 hits being needed for each run. Their opponents, meanwhile, have needed but 1½ hits per average run, having moided 49 out of 73 hits.

Yesterday, for instance, 15 Nationals of 73 hits.

Yesterday, for instance, 15 Nationals were stranded, at least one being left, on the sacks in every inning but the ninth. Three were marooned in the seventh and two in each of four other frames. An extra hit in any of these innings would have meant much.

Goose Goslin, who battled his way into "The Thumping Ten" in Monday's game, certainly was missed yesterday There were men on the bases every time "Lovely" Barnes, who patroled the left-field territory, came to the tee Barnes failed four times, but delivered in the eighth, when the !lats scored four of their five runs.

Fans no doubt are curious to learn the little secret Coach Al Schacht whispered in the ears of Bennie Tate, at bat, and Ossie Bluege, on first, in the second in-ning yesterday. After delaying the game to tell the two "sweet noth-ings," Bennie immediately proceed-ed to hit into a double-play.

It was a lucky break for the Yanks at that, for Lazzeri caught Tate's bounder over Shealy's head with his foot on the second sack and easily got the ball to first in time to beat Tate's

Two of the best plays turned in yesterday were wasted efforts. In the fifth, Hayes stopped a mile-a-minute grasser off Ruth's bat, but was unable to make the out at first; while, in the lower half of the same frame. Koenig scooped up Rice's roller almost back of third, but was in no position even to try for a put-out.

Garland Braxton did some more re Garanto and some more re-lief work yesterday, but it does not show in the box-score. When the Nats threatened to pull up close to the Yankees, "Brax" was hustled to the bull-pen to replace Bob Burke, who had hurled several hitless inning

III. THE "RUBBER TREE"

If I were to tell you that we could not have such good automobile tires had it not been for certain beetles. you might wonder how that could be yet the statement seems to be true.

Gathering rubber in southern Mexico.

Let us trace the work of those beetles
For thousands of years they have been at work attacking olants and trees To defend themselves some of the plants and trees have produced a gummy juice which becomes rubber when it hardens Without rubber tires our automobile trips would be rather bumpy—don't you think so?

The sailors with Columbus format.

smeared on canvas cloaks to make them proof against rain. The name for the gum—rubber—probably came from its early use for rubbing out black pencin marks. It was used for that purpose in England 130 years ago a small cube cost three shillings (about 73 cents). Even if the New World had not supplied rubber, it would most likely have come into use, for trees and plants which produce goodly amounts grow in Asia and Africa. Rubber is now obtained from the Congo region. Liberia India the East Indias, Brazil, Central America and elsewhere.

the East Indies, Brazil, Central America and elsewhere.

To get the rubber juice, natives climb the trees and cut the bark. Tin cups are held to cach the gum which is of a milky color. Each tree yields only a few ounces in a day, but the tapping may be kept up day after day A good tree mag produce 20 gallons of juice in a season.

EARNINGS STATEMENTS ON WHOLE, ENCOURAGING TUESDAY, M. Sale. | Trade.

General Motors Leads Steel in Increased Income; Other Showings.

DISTRICT MARKET ACTIVE

By F. W. PATTERSON.

By F. W. PATTERSON.

Corporation earnings statements now being made public for the first quarter show a good deal of variation, in keeping with the mixed character of business, but on the whole are encouraging, considering the unpromising way in which the quarter began.

Outstanding of the reports was that of General Motors Corporation showing net earnings available for dividends amounting to 869,468,576, the largest, except only the second quarter of 1927, in the history of the corporation, and an increase of 32 per cent as compared with $52,551,408 earned in the first quarter of last year.

The United States Steel Corporation, the second of the country's two leading industrial companies, earned $21,-331,871 after all charges during the first quarter, as against $13,794,893 in the final quarter last year, $26,327,362 in the first quarter of 1927, and $26,-074,957 in the corresponding quarter of 1926.

"Thus," says the National City Bank

Thus," says the National City Bank in its current business review, "steel aid not do quite so well as motors, notwithstanding that steel output for the quarter was slightly larger than last year. The trouble, of course, lay in prices, most of the shipments during the quarter being made on orders taken before the recent advances in prices became effective."

Increases Top Decreases,

Excluding General Motors and United States Steel, a tabulation of earnings of 104 additional companies thus far reported reveals 71 increases and 33 decreases, as compared with the first quarter last year, with the total showing an increase of $19,677,000. While final conclusions as to the quarter's showing are unwarranted until more reports are available, the results thus far have been better than seemed probfar have been better than seemed p able. Prospects point to a still better showing for the second quarter. One of the chief factors which has

One of the chief factors which has held down profits in the past three quarters, has been the losses sustained in the oil group, and these companies henceforward will have last year's poor figures to compare with besides naving the advantage of the recent improvement in the gasoline situation.

Steel companies likewise promise to do better in the second quarter, while earnings of most automobile companies should show up favorably, the chief element of uncertainty in this industry being the effect of Ford competition, which probably will not be fully felt until the third quarter.

BUSINESS The Maytag Company, incorporated in Delaware in 1925, is the outgrowth of a business established by F. L. Maytag in 1893. The Company, which is the largest manufacturer in the world of washing machines, does approximately one-third of the entire washing machine business in the United States. Maytag machines are distributed throughout the entire United States through an organization consisting of approximately 2,000 dealers who distribute Maytag products exclusively, and through about 1,600 hardware, furniture, implement and department stores Approximately 90% of the Company's sales are made on the basis of immediate cash payment on sight draft

In Canada the machines are distributed through The Maytag Company, Ltd., a wholly owned subsidiary. EARNINGS

The net earnings of the Company (including its predecessor company) and its wholly owned subsidiary, after all charges including depreciation and Federal taxes, as certified by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, have been as follows:

Years Ended Machines December 31 Sold Net Earnings 136,805 $2,267,309 186,390 4,341,180 $1,667,309 3,741,180 6,217,742 1925 1925 303,356 6,817,742 6,217,442 19.45
1927 264,911 6,151,688 5,551,688 17.54
Net earnings, as shown above, for the two years ended December 31, 1927, averaged $6,484,715 annually, equivalent to over 4 times combined annual dividend requirements on the Cumulative $6 First to be presently outstanding.

After providing for the annual dividend requirements of the Cumulative $6 First Preferred Stock and of the Cumulative Preference Stock, the balance of the net earnings for the two years ended December 31, 1927, averaged $4,924,715 or over $3.07 per share on 1,600,000 shares of new Common Stock to be presently outstanding, and after deducting sinking fund requirements on the Cumulative $6 First Preferred Stock, averaged $4.704,715 or $2.94 per share on such Common Stock on such Common Stock.

Preferred Stock and the Cumulative Preference Stock

The introduction of a new model in September, 1927, necessitating certain manufacturing adjustments, was responsible for the smaller production last year than in the year preceding. With the exception of the third quarter of the year, when this new model was introduced, net earnings for each quarterly period of 1927 were higher than for the corresponding quarter of 1926. In order to synchronize production and shipments to dealers with actual retail sales of machines to the consumer and to avoid accumulation of stock by dealers, a new policy of shipments was inaugurated at the beginning of 1928 which resulted in a reduction in net sales by the Company for the first quarter of 1928, as compared with the corresponding quarter of 1927, although retail sales by dealers were estimated to be #### higher than in the first quarter of 1927. BALANCE SHEET.

Current assets as shown by the Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 1927, adjusted to give effect to the proposed plan of recapitalization and incidental financing, as certified by Messrs, Ernst & Ernst. amounted to $10,343,776, of which $5.896.618 was cash and marketable securities, as compared with current liabilities of $2,612,320. The Company carries its patents and goodwill on its Balance Sheet at $1.00.

MANAGEMENT. The present management will continue. F. L. May-tag, Chairman of the Board, E. H. Maytag, President, and their associates will own over 80% of the 1,600 .-000 shares of the new Common Stock to be presently
